CHAPTER- NEHA'S NEW SCHOOL

INSTRUCTIONS- Parents are expected to make the child read the lesson and understand the value taught.

Neha was sad as her family moved to a new city and she had to leave her friends and school. In the new city Neha moved to a new house and joined a new school. On her first day to school her parents took her to school as she was worried and afraid.

The teacher introduced her to the class and asked them to help her. The teacher placed her next to Asmita and asked her to help her. Everyone in the class helped her.

When the school gave over, a boy named Raghu, who travelled on the same bus as Neha, took her to the bus to go home. When Neha reached home she told her parents that she liked the new school and everyone helped her.

So, what do we learn from this story?

We learn that we should always be kind and helpful to everyone. We feel better when we help others who may have any kind of difficulty.

We must always remember to use the 'magic words' we know, when we ask for help or receive help. Do you know the words?

Let's have a look at some of the magic words we should use in our day- to- day life.
